

Year 4 Half Term Project

Autumn 1

Digestive System Project

This half term we will be learning about the human digestive system. Your project is to create a model or a poster of the human digestive system and an information sheet to accompany it.

We have not learned about this in our class yet so that means you need to use the internet, books and magazines about science to find your information about what happens to the food in our body.

You must include all of the major organs in the digestive system including the mouth.

In your poster of information you need to include:

- The jobs of all the organs in the digestive system
- The names of the different liquids that are used in any part of the digestive system
- A brief description of how each part works

Remember to use all the time that you have been given to ensure that your work is amazing.

This project is due by Monday 5th October 2020
